MORE TO COME....

Florida Minority Community Economic Development Summit:

The Summit will provide Florida non profits and neighborhood associations the opportunity to access job creation, community and organizational development tools and resources. It also provides them a venue to meet and network with their fellow community organizers and key corporate leaders (www.letsdobusinessflorida.com)

-Florida One Million NIU (New Internet Users) in 2011-2012

FMCRC imports California technology initiative that will provide tools and Resources to urban communities, enabling them to use the Internet in the development of local families, businesses and organizations (www.onemillionNIU.org). Objectives include:

- *Increased Parent Engagement via Internet Training
- *Increasing use of Social Media and other Internet tools
- *Encourage major utility corporations to engage their supplier chain in funding best practice models that will help create "smarter consumers" in low-income, minority communities, via Internet access and training

-Creating Sustainable Neighborhoods and Communities:

Creating Jobs In Low Moderate Income Communities

Bringing community economic development tools and resources to create jobs in Florida minority low-moderate income communities

-White House and Federal Agencies Forum (invited):

Summit participants will interface with key members of the White House and Federal Agencies to discuss issues and opportunities that impact their communities, organizations and businesses.

-Jacksonville and Asian Federation Forums:

These two forums will actively engage leaders from Jacksonville and members of the Asian Federation community in strategic planning and provide resources that will impact and empower these communities within Florida.

-Builder of Community & Country Awards

Recognition of banking, business, Florida community and civil rights leaders that have demonstrated exceptional courage and compassion.
